PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:

Opportunities abound throughout northern Maine for extended backcountry travel! Canoeing is by far the most popular mode of travel for Maine High Adventure (MHA) crews. Paddling is available on lakes, ponds, easy to intermediate streams and rivers, and challenging whitewater. A crew can plan a laid-back relaxing trip, a strenuous demanding trip, or anything in between. Portaging may have to be included...no extra charge! Many groups also include day climbs or side trips in their itinerary. Climbing some of Maine's majestic mountains, as well as visiting historical landmarks or unique natural areas, adds welcome variety to the trip plan. Backpacking is also available for MHA crews, however the options are limited. The scenery is beautiful, but the terrain and footing make backpacking at MHA some of the most demanding found anywhere. Crews wishing to include backpacking in their trip plan should indicate those desires when scheduling their MHA experience.

The wilds of northern Maine offer a variety of fascinating environments – enormous lakes carved by glaciers, whitewater churning down rocky rivers, craggy peaks soaring skyward, endless conifer and hardwood forests, abundant wildlife, and a profusion of colorful wildflowers. Maine has an intriguing history featuring the Abenaki Indians, known as the “Dawn People”, Leif Erickson, Henry David Thoreau, and the mighty lumberjacks and sportsmen whose tales and lore have woven a colorful tapestry. Our highly trained MHA trail staff (“guides”) are well prepared to interpret both the historical and natural wonders of north Maine woods for our crews.

TRIP PLANNING:

Maine High Adventure offers you and your group an opportunity to learn and grow while having fun on a unique and custom designed trek. The key to this successful program is flexibility...flexibility in what you do, as well as, when and where you do it. Crews will receive extensive pre-arrival trek planning information. Itineraries are selected working with the MHA trip planners on arrival day.

WHERE CAN YOU GO ON YOUR TREK?

Program areas utilized by Maine High Adventure include: the Allagash Wilderness Waterway, Aroostook River, Baxter State Park, Chesuncook Lake, Grand Lake Matagamon, Grand Lake Seboeis, Penobscot River (East and West branches), Appalachian Trail, Seboeis River, and Webster Brook.

WHAT CAN YOU DO ON YOUR TREK?

- History: Every MHA trek guide is prepared to share knowledge about the unique and diverse history of the area.
- Backcountry Travel: Learn and practice skills to live and travel comfortably in the woods for extended trips.
- Low Impact Techniques: Your guide will show you how to reduce your impact on the environment.
- Observing Wildlife: Spot moose, eagle, osprey, otter, black bear, and a host of other species in their natural environment.
- Swimming: Enjoy a dip in cool blue lakes and pools.
- Ecology: Every Maine High Adventure guide is prepared to share knowledge of the flora, fauna, and geology with the crew.
- Backcountry Navigation: Use map and compass to travel through the north Maine woods.
- Rump-bumping: Float feet first down rushing whitewater while wearing protective gear.
- Whitewater Instruction: Learn the techniques necessary to safely and successfully paddle challenging waters.
- Fishing: For the patient and determined angler, species such as trout, salmon, perch, bass and chub lurk in the waters of northern Maine.
- Conservation Projects: Satisfy part of the Fifty Miler award requirements.
- Photography: Opportunities abound for activity shots, as well as capturing Maine's scenic wonder.
- Cooking and Baking on Fire: while becoming a lost art for many young people, MHA offers our groups the chance to build and use fire correctly (MHA's primarily wood fires, under LNT guidelines, for cooking purposes, however stove use is also taught and used in certain areas).
- Star Gazing: Nature has provided Maine High Adventure with a wonderful classroom for studying the night sky.
- Floatplane Travel: For an additional charge, crews may be able to schedule a sightseeing trip in a float plane. Subject to availability.
